

The Consortium of Berkeley Heights, Chatham, Millburn, New Providence, and Summit School Districts invite you to attend:

Parent Wellness Series: What You Need To Know

New Providence School District

Presents an online parent program

When Alcohol, Teens and Covid Intersect

Since the start of non-traditional learning in March, communities across the country have seen in store and online sales of alcohol skyrocket, and some parents relaxing abstinence rules at home to placate and bond with teens. Cooped up teens might be looking forward to blowing off steam...in unhealthy ways. We will discuss common misconceptions about alcohol that influence parenting choices and share tips on how parents can educate teens to have a healthy perspective on alcohol for their future.

Wednesday, October 28, 2020 at 7:00 pm

Presented by:

Christine Storm MPH for Caron Treatment Center

Christine has worked as a substance use prevention educator with Caron Treatment Centers since 2004. Over the years she has facilitated prevention and early intervention services in schools and child serving agencies in the Greater Philadelphia, Washington DC regions and beyond. Christine has developed a reputation as a dynamic presenter who works effectively with a wide variety of student, parent, and professional audiences. She has presented on the perils of substance use at many local and national conferences and has represented Caron extensively in the media. Christine has vast experience developing customized education to meet the unique needs of each audience she serves. She received her teaching degree from the University of Scranton and Master of Public Health from West Chester University of Pennsylvania.

Please go to the following link to Register for the event. You will receive a confirmation email after you register.

<https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/7464213216173285648>