

SUMMER READING BINGO

Color in each box as you complete it.

Fill in a row, then the entire board.

Share it with your teacher in September to show what you did this summer.

Participate in a summer reading program. Check the website for ideas.	Read a book on Raz-Kids.com or an article on Newsela.com	Read a book that a friend recommends	Reread a favorite book	Reread something that you have written this year (such as a story you wrote in class). Think of one goal you have for your writing for next year.
Read the same book as a friend/family member and have a Book Club where you snack and discuss the book.	Make a list of the longest words you know and divide them into syllables	Read a magazine article	Write the author of your book a letter with your thoughts/opinions/suggestions.	Make a list of vocabulary words from your reading to look up and learn.
Write a review of a book you've read and share it with someone	Read a graphic novel	CHOOSE YOUR OWN ACTIVITY	Start a new series	Swap books with a friend. Talk about each book.
Try a book or genre you would not normally read	Research your favorite author. Create a venn diagram comparing yourself to them	Read for 1 hour without stopping	Choose a page and list as many words as you can that are nouns, verbs, adjectives, or adverbs.	Sit outside and read or write a poem
Think of all the things you want to do tomorrow. Make a schedule including the activity and time.	Read like a writer. Look for the qualities of good writing in the book you are reading.	Read about something you are interested in by looking it up on the computer or researching it in a nonfiction text. Share it with someone.	Read a play out loud with a group of friends	Write a letter or post to make a change
