

Dear Incoming 5th and 6th Graders,

Reading as many as 6 books in the summer can keep you on track and help you prepare for September. Therefore, we require that all incoming 5th and 6th grade students read a minimum of two books of their choice during the summer.

This reading should be enjoyable! It should consist of books on your level. When deciding what to read, consider various genres, including nonfiction and magazine articles. Visit the public library, talk to your friends to ask for suggestions, and visit the Reading List section of the district website. Also, visit the website of your new teacher for more ideas and information.

When you return to school in September, you will be asked to share two of the books you read through a simple project or discussion.

Sincerely,

5th and 6th Grade Teachers
