Subject: Salt Brook School holds LEAD Graduation

Fifth grade students at Salt Brook School recently held their L.E.A.D graduation. LEAD (Law Enforcement Against Drugs) is a program sponsored by the New Providence Police Department and is committed to protecting our youth and community from the proliferation of drugs, drug related crimes, peer to peer/cyber bullying and violence.

At the conclusion of the 10-week program, students had to reflect on what they learned by writing an essay. Det. Michael Carlino of the New Providence Police Department read through the essays and chose one from each fifth-grade class to be read at graduation. Student essay winners were: Bhuvi Mathapati (Mr. Vopal's class), Anna Slattery (Mrs. Demareski's class), Paige Duncan (Mrs. Hamilton's class), and Reisa Mukerjee (Ms. Marciano's/Ms. Press' class). All fifth-grade students received a t-shirt and certificate upon completing the program. Congratulations Salt Brook 5th Graders!
